A Blanck Canvas initially designed Rainbow Octopus in Melbourne, Australia for the Thundamental's concert (an Australian Hip Hop band) along with two other crazy characters.

Construction & fabrication

The Rainbow Octopus is a one-eyed inflatable octopus suit puppet.

Its eye is illuminated with an LED lights that allow it to vibrantly glow. It also has colourful inflatable rainbow tentacles, that can be operated and manipulated by the puppeteer's hands which are hidden within pockets. These look amazing when the operator spins around, as they flare out in all directions.

Message

The Rainbow Octopus is an alien themed, quirky, abstract character that is loved by everyone. Children especially love the surreal, colourful nature of this puppet.

Performance

Rainbow Octopus is extremely versatile. Performance options are endless, as he can be used to roam, interact with crowds and have photo opportunities or he can perform his choreographed dances to audiences.

Performances run from 20 to 30 minutes and our performers require a 30-minute break between shows*.

The Team

There are 3 members of The Rainbow Octopus team, including:

- 1 professional performers
- 1 puppetry director
- 1 production assistant
