With the inquisitiveness that piques the interest of both children and adults, these sagacious healers arrive with a mission to acquire, impart, and radiate love. As they meander through the crowds, their engaging interactions promise to enchant every audience. Created and performed for Esoteric Festival, Australia.

Construction & Fabrication

The Elementals have large, foam and latex-sculpted heads that feature large captivating eyes.

They wear foam-sculpted head wear and shoulder pads, with long gowns. Their head to toe reflective iridescent covering makes them a spectacular highlight at an event and ensures that the performers really stand out even when interacting in large crowds.

They stand out in the crowd standing at nearly 2m tall.

The lightweight foam construction enables the puppeteers to move with great agility.
